Councilmen Listen To Merchants' Pleas For State St. Parking

More than 50 persons crowded into City Hall Monday evening to voice their opinions at the public hearing called on the State St. paving project.

Nearly all who spoke before the five councilmen present were opposed to the removal of parking on the main street and voiced an almost unanimous protest to the state's parking ban proviso.

In opening the hearing City Solicitor Walter J. Hunston told the gathering that the state Monday morning submitted a proposition in writing to city officials through Jack Kimball, assistant Division 11 engineer.

He said the document stated that City Council must agree to guarantee $17,500—one half of the estimated cost—and prohibit parking on the three blocks to be paved.

Council May Act Tonight

The hearing to ascertain public opinion was called, Hunston stated, because Council must act on the state's proposition tonight at its regular meeting in order to get the street paved this fall.

If Council passes the necessary legislation, he said Kimball told them, then a contract on the street job can be let by Sept. 25.

Although 18 persons told council members they were strongly opposed to the parking ban, it was not possible to ascertain how Council will act tonight.

No councilman present was asked a direct question and none commented on the matter.

Councilmen at the public hearing were Ned Massa, president, George Bowman, Robert Carpenter, Fred Koenreich, Carl Abe and Frank Byerley, Herman Kaiseley and Michael Schuller were absent.

Mayor Harry M. Vincent was present, but did not take active part in the discussion, except to explain to one interested person the specifications on the paving job planned by the state.

Cites Shopping Centers

One of the first speakers at the hearing was Alroy Bloomberg, who, as chairman of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce, told councilmen the only convenience that proven successful shopping centers have to offer is parking.

He said, "It is too bad if the transient or trucker has to spend a few minutes getting through town because of parking. We are for the good of Salem's citizens who want to park on their own street."

Attorney Ralph Atkinson, a planning commission member, told the legislators, "Were parking to be banned on State St. it would unquestionably do more damage to Salem as a merchandising center than any other thing."

He cited the removal of parking on the main street during the Memorial and July 4 holidays in 1952 when the holidays fell on a Friday and parking was prohibited over Sunday.

"When the traffic was removed over the Memorial Day holiday," he declared, "the merchant's loss was so severe that a group of them approached me professionally to see if they could enjoin the city from removing the parking over July 4."

"After the last holiday," he continued, "several merchants told me they might have as well stayed home, for all the business they did."

Chris Paparadis, owner of the Metzger Hotel, told Council "Shelve the offer from the state and let's let Salem people pave their own streets."

Speaking in behalf of the merchants, Walter Strain told councilmen, "If Salem had sufficient off-the-street parking, the merchants would say 'Amen.'"

"But, we do not have that. So until we have sufficient off-the-street parking to take care of our own people and the out-of-towners, I am in favor of keeping parking," William Wark said the state had a "moral obligation" to the city to have its main street "with no strings attached."

A resident, Albert Kentz, speaking against the parking ban, said that after the city took parking off 2nd St. and Howard Ave. they had

Final Count Negative On Wheat Quota Vote

LISBON — The 17 votes challenged at Friday's wheat quota referendum were inspected Monday by the PMA committee. Four votes were affirmative, 12 negative and one was declared ineligible.

The final tabulation of the county vote is 24 in favor of marketing quotas and 31 against.

The committee consists of George Rogers, chairman, George Pollock of Lisbon and Everett Fischel of East Rochester.

Fined By Lisbon Mayor

LISBON — Robert L. Mumpire of Columbiana was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Wilbur Warren Monday night for reckless operation of his vehicle. He was arrested early Monday morning by village police.

Another motorist, Randall Grossman of East Canton was arrested by village police Monday night at 11:30 p. for reckless driving on W. Lincoln Way.

Hungarians Free Sanders, Jailed With Vogeler

Briton Pardoned, Expelled; Had Been Sentenced As Spy

NICHELSDORF, Austria (P)—Edgar Sanders, British businessman jailed by Communist Hungary for nearly four years as a spy, crossed into Austria today a free man.

The Red Hungarian government pardoned the 47-year-old Briton last night and expelled him from the country where he and American Robert Vogeler were sentenced in February, 1953, on charges of espionage and sabotage. Vogeler was released in April 1951.

Like Vogeler, Sanders came across the frontier to freedom at Nickelsdorf, a little Austrian border station. Russian tanks on maneuvers and Austrian farm combines cluttered the narrow road on the Austrian side of the frontier.

Sanders crossed the frontier in a car of the British legation in Budapest.

He looked pale, wore his customary glasses and a grey suit.

Shortly after Sanders crossed, the Italian legation car bearing Vincenzo Sciutto, an Italian, also reached Austria.

Sciutto was convicted of espionage and sentenced to four years in prison in 1951.

An Italian foreign ministry spokesman in Rome earlier today declined to comment upon Sciutto. Spokesman said that publicity on the case might harm members of Sciutto's family who are still in Hungary.

The spokesman said the ministry had known of Sciutto's arrest and that the Italian government had sought repeatedly to have him freed. The spokesman said Sciutto was employed by a Hungarian construction company.

Sanders smiled out of the car and waved in reply to the greetings of newsmen who shouted: "Welcome to Austria."

Sanders, cousin of film star George Sanders and accountant for the Budapest subsidiary of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Vogler, East European representative of IT&T, were arrested in November 1949 and sentenced after trial the following February.

Sanders was sentenced to 13 years in prison and Vogeler to 15 years. Vogeler was released in April 1951 after negotiations between the American and Hungarian governments.

During their trial both Vogler

Police Investigate 2 Auto Mishaps In City

Two auto mishaps investigated by police in the city Monday resulted in damage to the vehicles involved but no injuries.

Police said cars driven by John J. Mansfield, 26, of 165 Jennings Ave. and Laura L. Marshall, 33, of 897 E. 6th St. collided at the intersection of W. 2nd St. and Howard Ave. at 5:15 p.m.

A car driven by Maude E. Koenreich, 64, of 1446 E. Pershing St. and a pickup truck operated by Herbert W. Brooks, 44, of Leetonia collided at E. State St. and Union Ave. at 5:40 p.m., police reported.

Dairymen To Present Calf To 4-H Member

LISBON — The county 4-H dairy committee met Monday night to complete plans for presenting a dairy calf to a 4-H club member who will exhibit his dairy project at the fair.

A number of county dairymen will make purchase of the calf possible, Harry Smith, associate county agent, said.

The winner will be selected Wednesday and the calf will be presented Friday.

DOWNTOWN MERCHANTS JAM COUNCIL CHAMBERS. At least 50 State St. merchants and other interested citizens crowded into the City Hall Council room Monday night to protest the State Highway Department's parking ban provision of a state-city project to repave the street. The above picture shows the spectators assembled around the councilmen, who are seated at desks in left foreground. Some visitors waited outside in the corridor. Council may decide the issue tonight.

Mullins Names H. O. Smith As Manager Of Operations

Harold O. Smith, works manager of Mullins Manufacturing Corporation's Salem plants, has been promoted to the post of general manager of operations for the corporation, it was announced today by F. M. Beauregard, vice president in charge of operations.

Smith will remain as acting works manager at Salem until his successor is named. He has been with Mullins for 16 years, working first in the Warren plant as staff assistant to G. E. Whitlock, president, and then was in charge of customer service for the Salem stamping division.

He was made assistant to the vice president in charge of the Salem operation shortly before the war and became Salem works manager during the war when Mullins was converting 100 per cent to war production.

Mr. Smith, a native of Detroit, was educated in Detroit public schools, Mt. Hermon preparatory school in Mt. Hermon, Mass., and Dartmouth University. His first job after college was in 1927 with the Michigan Copper and Brass Co. in the cost division. He worked for Murray Body Corp. in 1929 in the engineering department and later in the estimating department. In 1932 he joined Briggs Mfg. Co. and became chief estimator of the diversified products division.

When Briggs established the first plant to make stamped plumbing ware, Smith was made assistant general manager of the plumbing ware division and he remained in this position until joining Mullins.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith live on the Albany Road.

Edward J. Flynn, Democratic Party Leader, Dies In Ireland

DUBLIN (P)—Edward J. Flynn, American Democratic Party leader, died here last night.

The 61-year-old Democratic national committeeman and leader of the Bronx, New York, had been vacationing here. He died in a hospital.

Long in ill-health he sailed from New York for Ireland on the Mapretania July 25. He went aboard the liner in a wheelchair. His wife and 17-year-old daughter Sheila sailed with him.

Flynn was credited with James A. Farley in obtaining the Democratic presidential nomination for Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 despite the opposition of Tammany Hall.

He succeeded Farley as Democratic national chairman in 1940 and managed Roosevelt's successful third term bid.

No Action Taken On Half-Mill Health Levy

LISBON — No further action was taken concerning the half-mill levy requested to be placed on the November ballot by the county Health Board when the Columbiana County Commissioners met Monday.

The levy, suggested after the County Budget Commission whitelisted the health budget to $25,000, would raise $40,000 yearly for five years.

Mossadegh Rounds Up Coup Leaders

TEHRAN, Iran (P)—Premier Mohammad Mossadegh's triumphant government continued a roundup today of suspects in Sunday's attempted coup.

From a hill hideout the fugitive Shah's appointee as premier, Maj. Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, defiantly called on Army officers to lay down their lives for the monarchy. His declaration was handed newsmen in Tehran by a courier.

Unofficial reports said police and pro-Mossadegh troops had arrested 30 alleged ringleaders of the palace attempt to oust the aged Premier. Foreign Minister Hussein Fatemi admitted 14 were Army leaders.

Mossadegh's government appeared firmly in power after the abortive coup launched after Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi signed a decree to depose the Premier.

The monarch named Zahedi to the post but pro-Mossadegh forces routed a display of force by the imperial guard. The 34-year-old Shah fled with his wife, Empress Soraya, by plane to neighboring Iraq.

The government ordered a special frontier watch to prevent Zahedi from slipping across to join the Shah in Baghdad. There was speculation the monarch may plan to set up a government in exile.

Rothschild Won't Say If He Ever Was Red

WASHINGTON (P)—Edward M. Rothschild refused today to say whether he is a member of the Communist Party or whether he ever stole secret documents from the government printing office.

Rothschild, a bookbinding machine operator at the government printing plant, told the Senate Investigations subcommittee he declined to answer on the ground that he might incriminate himself.

Chairman McCarthy (R - Wis.) told the slightly built, bushy haired witness that the charges made against him in secret testimony before the subcommittee are perhaps "the most serious charges ever made against any government official."

"We have testimony to the effect that you stole secret documents from the government printing office among other things that you stole a secret code," the Wisconsin lawmaker said.

With a shake of his head, Rothschild declined McCarthy's invitation to comment on the charges.

Then, in a ready voice he parried all questions about his associations, alleged Communist connections and other activities with the repeated statement:

"Under the Fifth Amendment I refuse to answer that question."

Pair Robs Bank Of $160,000

Cashier Is Seized, Forced To Open Vault

FLORAL PARK, N. Y. (P)—Daring gunmen grabbed an assistant cashier on the lawn of his home this morning, forced him to open his bank's vault and escaped with $160,000.

They took the cashier with them, but dumped him out a few miles away.

Eric Gronewall, 44, told police that as he was leaving his Belmore home to go to a branch of the Franklin National Bank, a man stepped out of the bushes.

He had a gun, and a canvas bag. Jamming the gun into Gronewall's side, he warned him not to cry out, adding, "We know all about you and the bank."

They got into Gronewall's car and drove to the bank. Gronewall became aware another car was following, but the gunman said sternly, "Don't you dare turn around."

The gunman, about 30, dark haired and medium height, chatted as they drove along, said he had been in the army and before that had worked in a bank but didn't say where.

He had planned while he was in the army to rob another bank, he said, but when he got out found it had closed.

Arriving at the Franklin Branch in Floral Park, a prosperous Long Island community, the gunman marched Gronewall into the bank, forced him to open the vault and after taking the money, marched him back to his car again.

They drove to Bellerose Queens. Gronewall was told to get out. He never got a good look at the man in the other car, he said. His own car was found a short distance away after he notified police of the holdup.

Police put out an alarm for a 1947 Ford with two men in it who were armed.

Police are searching for the pair.

Soviet Demand To Invite Reds Soundly Beaten

Vishinsky Says He'll Try To Seat Chinese Communists In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—

The United Nations political committee today rejected a Soviet demand that Red China and North Korea be invited to take part in the current U. N., Korean debate.

The vote on the two countries was taken separately. The proposal to invite Communist China was 14 in favor, 34 against and nine abstaining. The vote against inviting North Korea was 18-34 with seven abstaining.

Soviet delegate Andrei V. Vishinsky warned before the decision, "No solution is possible in their absence."

He also disclosed that the Soviet Union wants the forthcoming Korean peace conference to include a broader membership than the actual countries who participated in the fighting, as the United States has been demanding.

Vishinsky also served notice that he would make a formal proposal at the regular fall session of the General Assembly for the seating of Red China as a member of the U. N.

"The seat of China can and must be occupied by the representative of the central government of the People's Republic of China," Vishinsky said.

His resolution this morning was confined to a proposal to invite the Chinese Reds and the North Koreans to take part in the present debate.

Lodge immediately opposed the Soviet move. He said there is no reason for the participation of the Peiping regime or the North Koreans in the selection of the U. N. representatives to the peace conference. The armistice agreement makes it clear, he said, that the two sides were to choose their own representatives.

Sir Percy Spender, Australian delegate, backed up Lodge in opposing the Soviet move.

The main debate on the Korean peace conference was delayed temporarily by Vishinsky's proposal.

Russia, however, was reported ready to plump for a widely backed plan to include some countries who sent no troops to the conflict. Some diplomats felt the U. N. Assembly majority might agree with the Russians.

The Soviets and India both have been proposed for membership in the conference, their sponsors con-

McAllister Challenges Penna. Milk Laws

MEADVILLE, Pa. (P)—An Ohio dairy store operator who opened a new store in Meadville is challenging Pennsylvania's milk laws.

Temple McAllister of Warren, Ohio, owner of a chain of 31 dairy stores in Ohio opened the new store last Saturday and has been selling milk for 17 cents a quart—seven cents below the minimum retail price of 24 cents established by the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission.

The commission obtained a court injunction yesterday in Dauphin County (Harrisburg) against the new store. McAllister said he will fight it, adding:

"The Pennsylvania milk law is an unlawful law. The law and the milk commission are against the Constitution. It is our contention that they have no more right to set a price on milk than on any other one thing. We have the Sherman anti-trust law to prevent that very thing."

Joab Mahood, chairman of the milk commission, said the injunction was asked to restrain the store from selling milk without a license from the milk commission; to stop the store from selling milk below Pennsylvania's minimum price; and to require the store to obtain a health permit from the bureau of milk sanitation of the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

President Pays Surprise Visit

Ike Better Man Than Hopalong, Boy Dying Of Cancer Decides

DENVER (AP)—To 6-year-old Paul Henry Haley, who is dying of cancer, President Eisenhower is "a bigger and better man" than Hopalong Cassidy.

Now, to those who aren't parents of small boys, that may sound incredible.

But ordinarily a president doesn't cut much ice when children match him up with Hopalong.

Not so with Paul. Dwight Eisenhower is the hero of his tragically foreshortened life.

That's the result of a surprise visit the President paid Paul yesterday.

It started when Eisenhower picked up the Rocky Mountain News before church. There was a picture of cowboy-outfitted Paul, his arm around his mother Jean. The story was in the form of a letter by reporter David Stolberg.

"I'm writing this story to you, Mr. President, for a young fellow who hasn't learned to write," it said in part.

"He wants to see you, Ike, and although he doesn't know it, that's his dying wish. . . . He may live as long as two months, at most 18, doctors say."

The reporter said Paul is ill of cancer.

Eisenhower decided to see Paul. And he did, unannounced.

Maybe there has been a more astonished man than Paul's stepfather, Donald Haley, when he answered the door wearing dungarees, but it's doubtful.

As Paul, wide-eyed and unbelieving walked into the living room, the President flashed his smile and said, "Paul, I understand you wanted to see me." Paul was flabbergasted.

They visited, Paul and the President, about five minutes. Then Paul got to inspect the presidential limousine.

The President told him he had a grandson about Paul's age — 5-year-old Dwight David Eisenhower, II.

Afterward, Paul talked about the car.

"It was nice and cool," he reported. "There was something to put your feet on, and there was a chair, I think it was for a baby."

Mrs. Haley wasn't home when Eisenhower called. Later, she said there just aren't "enough adjectives to describe how grateful we were."

"The President came in and

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio American Legion yesterday voted to ask the United States to withdraw from the United Nations.

A 35-man executive committee passed a resolution offered by the North Canton post urging withdrawal so the United States could again become "a respected powerful nation, unentangled in a helpless . . . world government, where in several associates desire to exploit American economy for their own good."

The resolution will be presented before the Legion's national convention in St. Louis Aug. 31.

The committee also passed resolutions calling for an objective teaching of Marxist Socialism in Ohio's public high schools and criticizing the use of textbooks sponsored by world organizations such as the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

Russet Mite Invades Maryland Truck Farms

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A new menace has invaded Maryland truck farms.

It's called the russet mite and is so small you can hardly see it with the naked eye. Specialists at the University of Maryland say 200 of the mites, placed end to end, will only measure an inch.

The pests have been reported in tomato crops in seven counties. It is their first appearance in Maryland since they were discovered in California in 1940.

Printing Office Man Called Red

Federal Employee, Wife To Reply To Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward and Ethel Rothschild, a Government Printing Office employee and his wife, get their chance today to reply to sworn testimony naming them as onetime Communists.

The intense, pipe-smoking Rothschild was one of five present or former workers at the huge government printing plant to be so described yesterday at a public hearing of the Senate's investigations subcommittee.

The committee is looking for evidence that Communist-sympathizing workers may have leaked secret atomic or other data sent to the government plant for printing.

Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis), who told reporters either Rothschild or his wife would be the first witness today, said evidence already taken shows the printing office had an "extremely slipshod" security setup in the past.

McCarthy made that comment despite assurances at yesterday's hearing from Harry D. Merold, production manager at the printing office, that it would be extremely difficult for any unauthorized person to see secret material at the plant.

"I know you have a new security setup now," McCarthy told Merold.

McCarthy noted, however, that Rothschild still works at the printing office, although he said testimony was available to the office's loyalty board that (A) both the man and his wife were Communists and (B) a woman witness declared she once saw Rothschild take a secret paper from the plant.

The senator indicated this woman will be called as a witness before his committee later in the week.

Rothschild has denied before the loyalty board that he ever was a Communist.

One of his co-workers, James B. Phillips, testified yesterday he knew Rothschild to be a Communist party member in 1938 and 1939. Phillips said Rothschild and Frederick Sillers Jr. tried to recruit him into a Communist cell at the printing office.

Sillers, formerly foreman of the plant's metals section, took the stand later and refused, on the ground it might tend to incriminate him, to say whether he ever was a Communist or whether he knew Rothschild or Phillips.

A tense, graying man who said he now is a free lance artist in Rolla, Mo., Sillers testified he worked as a metallurgist for Titanium Alloy Manufacturing Co., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and for Republic Steel at Youngstown, Ohio, before going to work for the Government Printing Office in 1939.

McCarthy said also in the public hearing that a proffreader named Irving Kornfield still is employed at the printing office despite information furnished to the loyalty board by government investigative agencies that he held a Communist party card.

One of yesterday's witnesses, Mrs. Mary Markward, a former undercover agent for the FBI, said a former printing office employee, Irving Studenberg, was known to her as a Communist. The fifth present or former printing office worker alleged to have been a Communist was Bertha Lomax. She was fired after an adverse finding by the loyalty board and, Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said, after she was caught leaving the plant with a secret document in her possession.

Marine Lieutenant Given Medal Of Honor

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—The wife and mother of Medal of Honor winner George H. O'Brien Jr. took news of the award calmly last night.

Said young Mrs. O'Brien: "Wonderful. Wonder if this will get him home any sooner?"

And said the elder Mrs. O'Brien: "They can have the medal if they'll just send him home."

The Marine Corps' lieutenant was awarded the nation's highest military decoration for "indomitable determination and valiant fighting spirit" displayed in Korea last Oct. 27.

Allies OK Work On Austrian Pact

Soviets Told They Aim For Success

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Big Three Western Powers have agreed to Russia's demand that work be resumed on a comprehensive peace treaty with Austria—if the Soviets are willing to stick to the issues and finish the job.

The United States, in a note similar to ones dispatched from London and Paris, said it is willing to shelve the abbreviated treaty which the Western nations have been pressing on this understanding:

"That there will be no extraneous issues raised and that the Soviet government is prepared to conclude a treaty for Austria which will insure Austria's political and economic independence."

After more than 20 sessions by deputy foreign ministers of the four nations met with no success in agreeing to a full Austrian treaty, the United States, Britain and France proposed an abbreviated version.

The main point of difference between the two drafts is that the short form omits a clause calling for the return of industries which the Soviets are holding on the ground that they belonged to the German Nazi regime of Adolf Hitler.

The notes delivered to the foreign Office in Moscow yesterday and made public last night suggested that diplomats appointed by the Western Powers and Russia meet in London to resume talks on the long treaty.

They were in reply to a Russian note of July 30 asking that the Western nations drop the short form treaty, which Russia has contended is a violation of the Big Four agreement made at Potsdam in another note on Aug. 4, the in 1945.

Soviets had said that "it goes without saying that a possible successful solution of the German problem could also help a solution of the Austrian question."

In reply, yesterday's U. S. note said it was assumed this did not

Young Pedestrian Hit By Equally Young Driver

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Police officer H. C. Walker called to investigate a traffic accident, was told by a woman that her 4-year-old son had been hit.

The child, with legs and arms skinned, pointed toward a parked car. But the car's owner insisted it hadn't been moved in 24 hours.

Then the officer spotted a toy pedal car near the automobile. Sure enough, that was it. And the child pointed an accusing finger at another 4-year-old who was driving it.

Walker walked away mopping his brow.

Dollar Wheat Was In Sight

Before the wheat referendum last week, commodity traders had a vision of dollar wheat—the surest sign of agricultural distress.

When the referendum produced better than an 80 per cent vote for cutting wheat acreage one-fifth in return for price support at 90 per cent of parity, the vision vanished.

Wheat will continue to sell for upwards of $2 a bushel. Wheat farmers will cut down their acreage about one-fifth from its total this year, though it is to be expected they will follow the usual rule of eliminating only the least productive fifth.

It will be the first time since 1942 this has been done, though not the first time it should have been done. The threat of a wheat-price collapse unless wheat farmers curtailed production was magnified by a huge carryover from previous years, plus a carryover from a bumper crop this year.

In industry, when inventories grow top-heavy and unwieldy, production is adjusted by tacit consent. The automobile industry is adjusting its production in the light of unwieldy inventories of new cars and used cars. This is easy to do in auto manufacturing because the decision can be made by a handful of executives.

But there are two million farmers who grow wheat, and upward of half of them grow wheat in large quantities. The only way they can get together on anything is under the auspices of their government, because they are scattered among nearly 40 states. Hence the wheat referendum.

Acreage allotments for crops being produced in surplus amounts and price supports to stabilize markets are not a perfect answer to the problem of putting an economic floor under agriculture.

But the answer is so much better than what used to happen when wheat prices sagged to a dollar a bushel and the entire national economy sagged correspondingly that no one is thinking of doing it that way again.

Who Comes After Rhee

While the sickly tragedy of war's aftermath is stumbling through the news of the prisoner-of-war exchange in Korea the time is right for Americans to declare that Syngman Rhee's successor as Korean president is overdue.

It has occurred to the hard-bitten realists in the British Foreign Office that if this man who has been so long and violently in controversy should provoke an attack during the truce Britain would not feel bound to defend him. Canada has served warning to the same effect.

The United States, one of 16 U.N. nations pledged to protect South Korea during the truce, likewise should make it plain that its obligation does not include going to war in the event President Rhee refuses to stay at peace.

He has no right to assert his personal independence at the risk of reopening a war which has been closed by mutual consent of the principal participants.

Even though the State Department's trust in Rhee is to all outward appearances without misgiving or flaw, he stands on a shaky political footing in Korea. Former Secretary of State Acheson thought at one time it was too shaky to justify any further dealings.

The men who died, suffered and risked injury in Korea in a war to turn back aggression did not go there to save Syngman Rhee. They went to save a proposition that South Korea should not be ridden to ruin by aggressors.

The next step in that process would be to set up a South Korean government with a broader mandate than ever was attained by Syngman Rhee.

Most Vital Task

When Clarence B. Randall, chairman of the board of Inland Steel Co., accepted a presidential appointment last week to serve as chairman of the new Foreign Economic Policy Commission, he called it "a vital task."

Mr. Randall's commission, which will have 17 members when it is fully manned, will have the most vital task of any group in government below the level of Congress.

Circumstances have given the United States direct responsibility for the economic welfare of all nations which must carry on trade in order to live. American free enterprise is the hub of world commerce.

Circumstances have not bestowed on Americans, unfortunately, the ability to understand that this responsibility cannot be cast aside or even neglected without costly and unpleasant consequences.

The contest between free societies and slave societies will be settled ultimately according to their relative abilities to sustain themselves economically. The Soviet Union is going after foreign trade hammer and tongs, relying on the United States to be caught asleep at the switch.

The Foreign Economic Policy Commission is charged with responsibility for keeping the nation intelligently awake.

It takes the kick out of being a self-made man when you step on the scales and the pointer says 240.

Joint Chiefs' Creed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

1st Duty To Country Regardless Of Administration

Something more than a mere change in personnel is dramatized as Adm. Radford, chairman, and an entirely new Joint Chiefs of Staff take over from Gen. Bradley, chairman, and the three service chiefs who held their posts under the Truman administration.

The change is one of military philosophy toward civilian control. It can be of profound importance to the security of the United States.

Under the Truman administration the military chiefs were tools of politics. They couldn't say publicly what they thought without fear of reprisal — as happened to Adm. Denfeld, chief of naval operations.

What they said in the open was usually dictated, therefore, by political considerations. Speeches delivered by some of them were often made to fit in as replies to political attacks on the administration.

Though such motivation was always officially denied, the record shows an oft-repeated coincidence of military pronouncements that suited the political whims of President Truman or the pro-British point of view of Secretary Acheson.

When Gen. Bradley, just a few weeks after the dismissal of Gen. MacArthur, couldn't remember who in the White House telephoned him to summon the Joint Chiefs to consider the future status of MacArthur, almost everyone was surprised at his poor memory.

When it was discovered later that the Joint Chiefs — our supreme military authority — had not initiated or recommended the MacArthur ouster to the President and only had concurred when the word was relayed to them by Gen. Bradley as to what the President wanted, people on Capitol Hill, including the late Sen. Taft, were chagrined.

From that time on — as the speeches by Gen. Bradley seemed to be political expressions ordered by the administration — the late Republican leader declared publicly he had no confidence in the then-existing Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Gen. Bradley was an excellent soldier in the last war in Europe. He has a likable personality and has many admirers as a military man. But his judgment on global strategy has been subject to public criticism by many other prominent military men.

When he told a House committee in the autumn of 1949 that America could dispense with large aircraft carriers and he openly months one of the largest amphibious warfare on a large scale, he didn't realize that within eight months one of the largest amphibious operations in American history would be carried out on the peninsula of Korea or that, without aircraft carriers, the fighter planes of the U.S. Air Force could never have been transported to Korea in time to meet the crisis of the early days of the war.

Every military commander knows that the kind of war waged in Korea under the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the Truman administration was not the kind of war that should have been fought. The military chiefs never said so for fear of being summarily dismissed, as was Gen. MacArthur.

The basic principle involved here is the forthrightness and independence of the military. It must always be obedient to a civilian decision, but in furnishing military advice it must not adulterate its thinking on military questions to suit the political purposes of the administration or to appease allies who transmit their views to our State Department.

Refusal of the Joint Chiefs, for example, to support on paper confidentially or before Congress subsequently their December 1951 view that bases in Manchuria should be bombarded and a naval embargo placed on strategic materials destined directly or indirectly for Red China is a sad example of how the military forfeited its independence of judgment under the last administration.

The philosophy of the new personnel on the Joint Chiefs of Staff is different. It was expressed by Gen. Ridgway, chief of staff of the Army, when he took his oath of office last week.

He pledged himself to preserve the democratic institutions of America and to "maintain the integrity of the military profession."

Gen. Ridgway said this means presenting "honest, objective, professional views up to the point of decision by civilian authority, and then completely loyal execution of that decision."

No better creed could be proclaimed for the entire group of new service chiefs.

The function of Adm. Radford, as chairman of the Joint Chiefs, should not be to make public speeches, however great the temptation to uphold his boss in the political arena.

It should be to furnish the best military advice possible and—when called upon—to tell Congress frankly what that advice was so that the legislative branch of the government may in due time pass judgement on the efficiency and effectiveness of the military service rendered by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Decline Of Tomcats

By TRUMAN TWILL

Whenever a topic was needed in the old days, this column would fall back on the tomcat. That is, an old trick of columnists.

The trouble was that our tomcats are perishable. They come and go. Finally there were no more tomcats at our house that could do the job.

Not only were they unable to write columns but they couldn't even think up ideas on which columns could be written. The tomcat being supported at our house at present—the one that bears the improbable name of "Baby Kitten"—is worthless as far as literary production is concerned.

But there is this to be said about him and other tomcats in the country: they are not regarded as parasites. Your true countryman, the kind that must get by on his agricultural income, regards all cats as necessities.

Two years ago some form of galloping cat fever wiped out all the cats with merely ordinary resistance in our neighborhood. All the farm families went looking for cats to restock their big barns.

The idea is to give the cats just enough milk to drink to keep them healthy but nothing else. Their voracious appetites then drive them to hunt for the innumerable mice and rats that infest barns.

The cats earn their keep by this relentless hunting. It is like the game between the human hunters and the pheasants, which always disappear when hunting season starts.

The presence of cats drives the rats to cover. It puts them on the defensive. And if the cats know their business, they gradually put the rodents out of business. One good hunter at our house found, killed and laid out for inspection 14 half-grown rats which she had destroyed in one night.

It is widely believed and may be true that females make the best hunters, but tomcats are adequate hunters too. "Baby Kitten," worthless as he appears to be, frequently brings in a squirming breakfast to be eaten at leisure in his favorite place by the side door.

If he could read and write we'd let him take a crack at this on days when things get jammed up. People are morbidly curious to know what cats are thinking about human beings, probably because cats keep people on the defensive with their smirking and blinking.

Actually, the cats cannot help doing this and do not mean to be insulting. They are not being supercilious or hypercritical—just catty. That would be the great surprise if all animals could read and write, to learn that cats are interested only in other cats. It would let a lot of air out of the human ego.

Despite the various statements about unification, as early as October 12, 1950, Syngman Rhee was precluded from governing North Korea, even the conquered terri-

SIDE GLANCES

By Gailbreath

"Our new neighbor isn't very cordial—you'd think she'd ask us in to tea one of these lazy summer afternoons!"

---And Thou Beside Me

Too Many Promises

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

As one goes over the material on Korea, it is shocking to read all the promises that have been made, particularly about unification!

After the Wake Island conference between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur, Rhee's position was considerably weakened. Yet a United Nations Commission on Unification and Rehabilitation had been appointed. What kind of unification was not made clear.

ONE OF the most amazing documents in this series is a joint statement issued by President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee in which it is said:

"There can be no thought of appeasement or of rewarding aggression, whether in the Far East or elsewhere" but "we are ready (to) seek an end to hostilities by means of negotiation . . . on the basis of a free and independent Korea."

Yet, aggression is regarded in the sense that the Chinese Communists, who are the effective aggressors in this war, are actually being supported by Great Britain, France, Canada and other countries in their demand for a seat in the United Nations. Should they get their seat, would it not be evidence that crime does pay?

PRESIDENT Truman, in his reply to the Russian peace proposal (June 1951), said: "We are ready to join in a peaceful settlement in Korea now just as we have always been. But it must be a real settlement which fully ends the aggression and restores peace and security to Korea."

It will here be noted that nothing is said in this statement about unification. The Russian peace proposal was made after 1950, when the United States troops were at the Yalu River with all of Korea under their control.

The victory had been won by Gen. MacArthur against the North Koreans, but on November 6, 1950, the Chinese Communists intervened and started a new war.

After the Chinese intervention, talk about unification was not so general. For instance, in June 1951, Dean Acheson said that the war was being fought to end aggression and to restore peace.

ACHESON'S attitude, like Truman's, was that if the status quo ante bellum could be restored, it would be enough.

However, President Eisenhower did not take that position. He said in June 1953, that the United States was committed to the principle of the unification of Korea.

Actually, it would seem that too many promises have been made, most of which are not yet known to the American people.

What are our commitments to Great Britain or to India?

How far have we gone in our negotiations with the North Koreans who represented the Chinese Communists?

What have we promised Syngman Rhee in return for his consent to be a good boy for 90 days?

These questions have not been answered. The Far Eastern sub-committee of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate may know the answers, but they regard them as confidential. Yet, the people do not know and it is their business.

Congressional Witnesses

By GEORGE BEVERIDGE

One thing you can say about Capitol Hill investigating committees: they don't waste money on witnesses.

In fact, Congress gets downright stingy when it reaches out for witness-chair material. It makes no difference whether the witness is subpoenaed or not.

To be sure, the House and Senate give witnesses payment for their trouble. But, significantly, the payments are called "fees," not "expenses." And if the witnesses can live on the payments here, they've found a way to beat ordinary hotel and restaurant prices.

The wisest witnesses come well heeled. Those summoned by the Senate are the luckiest, moneywise. They are allowed $9 a day (unless they are government employees, in which case they get nothing) plus seven cents a mile travel allowance.

The Senate tripled its witness payment just two years ago, magnanimously wiping out a long-standing daily fee of $3.

There is one complication for the man who is hard up. Witnesses get their money by mail after they return home.

Here's the way it works when a committee summons a witness from out of town:

—He spends his own money on tickets. If he just doesn't have the money, and that happens once in a while, the committee arranges to get a train or plane ticket to him.

—He spends his own money while in Washington. Most witnesses seem to be able to do it. One summoned before a House committee recently, however, couldn't. In his case a few of the committee staff aides dug into their own pockets to get him hotel and meal money.

After his appearance the witness signs a fee and travel voucher and takes off.

The voucher is signed by the committee chairman, and the chairman of the House Administration (or Senate Rules) Committee, then goes to the disbursing office of the House or Senate. In most cases the disbursing offices figure the mileage allowance, based on the "nearest route usually traveled by railroad." If the witness claims a specific amount he gets it—as long as it figures under seven cents per mile.

In the House, money for witnesses comes from funds authorized by the House for specific investigations. Without the special investigation authorizations, committees could draw on no money to pay witnesses. When Congress adjourned, however, only three house groups—Rules, House Administration, and Banking and Currency—hadn't obtained such investigation allowances.

The Senate is a little different. Its committees also get most of their investigative money by special resolution. But, in addition, each committee has $10,000 to start with, a sort of extra general-expense kitty the House leaves out. On neither side of Capitol Hill do committees actually get the investigative money in hand. They merely get authorization to spend certain amounts from the House and Senate contingent funds.

The only exception to this is Sen. McCarthy's permanent Senate investigating subcommittee, which, since 1940, has been able to write its own checks against an actual appropriation.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Another Trouble Spot

On the eve of the momentous United Nations session on a peaceful settlement in Korea, U.N. nearly got into a war with the City of New York. It just goes to show what a screwy age we are passing through.

Hostilities broke out between the U.N. secretary general, Dag Hammarskjöld and Gotham's free-swinging park commissioner, Bob Moses, over traffic congestion caused by the parking of U.N. cars. But it was realized that peace had better come fast, since Bob Moses not only has the H-bomb but is the H-bomb.

Truce tents were quickly set up on the East River before it became necessary to issue casualty lists in a parking dispute. It was a close call from bloody conflict.

Few streets in New York have had more cars parked bumper to bumper than those around U.N. headquarters. Moses demanded that something be done. The city had spent $23,000,000 on approaches to the Temple of Peace with the understanding the U.N. would provide and use underground parking facilities.

Mr. Hammarskjöld, being a new arrival in this country and having never bumped into Moses, and despite considerable experience in lesser wars, defended the street parking of U.N. cars.

It looked like another global war when somebody briefed him on Moses as an enemy in any battle, and he withdrew behind a sort of Manhattan 38th Parallel and sent up the peace dove at once. The world breathes easier.

The fact is, however, that with the world in such a frightful shape, with fighting men dying the hard way and with tremendous suffering going on everywhere, the picture of diplomats going to and from the U.N. in eight-cylinder seven-passenger limousines is not so helpful that the opulence should be advertised by all-day parking.

It makes the mood a little too luxurious and carefree for an organization dedicated to the tough job of global rescue for the underprivileged, the undernourished and the underprotected.

It is impossible to fret about the underdog when you are in a deluxe car driven by a liveried chauffeur.

The atmosphere around the Temple of Peace should be one of reasonable humility and obvious concentration on a keen concern for millions of human beings threatened with death from the skies.

With a vast fortune in motor cars stacked all around the place, the mood is more like that of a society wedding, an international polo match or a new night club opening. What goes? The greatest Man of Peace in the history of the world went on foot or donkey.

No matter how the war between Mr. Moses and the U.N. comes out, we would like to see the U.N. pass a rule forbidding any delegate or any worker showing up in anything better than a jalopy with two door handles missing and the upholstery in rags.

Either that or in a city bus, and always subscribing to a statement, "I may not have the brains to bring world peace but I am too smart to make New York sore at me."

We hear Beria has asked a postponement of his trial on the ground he has not yet received his full confession from the Kremlin.

Vishinsky has arrived to take part in the discussion of a settlement in Korea and is all set to help world peace if it takes his last insult.

"News" won at Saratoga and was, in a manner of speaking "all the News that was fit to SPRINT." The Ali Khan got $170,000 in a sale of two-year-olds at the Spa and we made an opening bid of $30 for one skinner just so we could go around boasting that we had once been close to a big deal with the son of the Aga Khan.

Then there was the woman at the sale who complained, "I wish they would get those horses out of the way. I came to see the husband of Rita Hayworth."

Sloan Simpson got her Mexican divorce from Bill O'Dwyer on a claim of "irascibility." That wasn't irascibility; it was a normal reaction to newspaper headlines, my gal.

We liked that jingle in Nial Brennan's new book "The Making of a Moron":

There goes the Happy Moron;
He doesn't give a damn;
I wish I were a moron. . .
My gosh! Perhaps I am!
And we would add another stanza:
There's this about us morons
To keep our spirits high:
We all can say, "Not me, sir;
It is the OTHER GUY!"

Communization Of Romania Grinds On, But National Pride Can't Be Stamped Out

EDITOR'S NOTE—For the first time in five years, four American correspondents have been permitted by Communist Romania to visit that forbidden Balkan country. This is the first of several articles by the Associated Press chief of bureau in Vienna, who was among them.

By RICHARD O'REGAN

BUCHAREST (AP) — Communization of Romania has made the faces of 16 million Balkan people like identical masks—but it has not yet destroyed their souls.

Outside of Russia, probably no Soviet satellite has gone so far in bringing down to one monotonous, miserable level the thoughts and actions of its people.

Bordering on Russia, Romania's rich oil supplies are vital for the Soviet Union. Every sign points to more and more Sovietization for Romania and perhaps its eventual incorporation into the Soviet Union as a 17th republic.

But deeply hidden, there is a national restlessness and even a little organized resistance.

For the "Fourth World Festival of Youth" in Bucharest, the capital, Communist Romania admitted U. S. correspondents for the first time in five years and did its best to leave the impression that Bucharest still is the "Paris of the Balkans." But beneath the fresh whitewash, the floodlights and the colored fountains are the signs of communism's "brave new world."

Life has been communized to the smallest detail of existence. Individuality, which despite oppression always marked the national groups of Germans, Hungarians, Greeks and Romanians, seems to have disappeared.

Men wear the same shirts and shabby trousers and women identical cotton prints from the machines of the Gheorghiu-Dej ready-made clothes factory. The necktie has been abolished (except for the new Communist aristocracy) and costume jewelry is a rare, luxury item.

To remain unshaved is the mark of the "new man." "Tovaras" is the new greeting.

Recreation has been mass-organized to the extent where even a Communist worker said: "I have to get away for a few hours on my bicycle to escape the street radio." But he can't go far without police checks.

Hour after hour, insistent, nerve-shattering and deafening loud-speakers on the streets mix propaganda with Russian music. Radio-fication—as it is called—pipes controlled programs into loudspeakers which can't be adjusted in thousands of town and village homes, factories and farms.

No time is allowed for individual thought or action. If not attending political lectures or "cultural" events, the Romanian today is rushed in buses to take part in parades.

"Only the party bigshots can see the parades," explained a Western diplomat. "The public is forced to march in them."

With its own peculiar morality, communism cut out completely Bucharest's once-gay night life. Golf courses (a "decadent" sport) have been made into military training grounds, gambling casinos into lecture halls.

Enterprise has been almost 10 per cent socialized. Only a few private artisans, like tailors and shoemakers who cannot get cloth or leather, remain. And a few beggars.

Far more effort appears to have been made in trying to "educate" the Romanian masses to communism than in other satellites. Yet, though a massive, all-embracing propaganda has made most Romanians act in a Russian behavior pattern, six years of communism apparently have failed to make the majority think like Russians.

"Even the Communists do not believe their own lies," said a letter secretly slipped to visiting American correspondents.

There was a certain unreluctance about the crowds who found everyday police terror somewhat relaxed during the presence of 30,000 foreign youths attending the festival. Although there seemed a sea of uniforms to Westerners, residents said there were less than usual.

By the eager firmness of their handshakes, the look in their eyes, or the way they spat out Communist slogans, they showed their hate of communism and a lingering hope of liberation when the met non-Communist Westerners.

Although he knew they were watched by secret police, an old lawyer, in a pitiful assortment of clothes, approached two Americans and said: "I heard you speaking English. It is shocking what has happened to the middle class. Many of my friends are starving or are in prison. Communism is slowly reducing us all to the lowest level."

"War would be horrible but nothing like this system," muttered a clerk in a key Communist ministry. This is the latent unrest of the city masses. In the mountains, diplomats say, there have been sporadic indications of organized bands. Peasant villages in the foothills are frequently searched by police for weapons. An apparent underground group blew up a textile store in Bucharest recently. All live in the hope that, with

10-Year Marriage Of Parents Of 5 Annulled

BALTIMORE (AP)—The 10-year marriage of the parents of five children has been annulled.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robbins of Baltimore was annulled yesterday on grounds Mrs. Robbins was not divorced at the time she married her second husband.

Judge S. Ralph Warnken awarded custody of the three boys, 3, 4 and 8 years old, to the father. Custody of the two girls, 1 and 7, went to the mother.

The husband sought the annulment.

Miss Patricia Teuscher Is Wed In Presbyterian Church Sunday

The Upper Room Chapel in the scene of the Sunday afternoon wedding of Miss Patricia Teuscher and Bernard L. Padgett, Rev. David T. Mair performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Teuscher, daughter of Mrs. Harry Paul of the Benton Rd., and her bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Padgett of RD 1, Magnolia, are the first couple married by the newly ordained minister.

An uncle, George N. Smith of Franklin Square, gave the bride in marriage when the vows were exchanged before the altar banked with fern and grape ivy and lighted with twin seven-branch candelabra.

Miss Anna Cook played the traditional wedding marches preceded by a recital of favorite nuptial selections of the bride.

The bride's gown of white net over taffeta was fashioned with a taffeta bolero jacket. Her corsage was made of white roses and stephanotis.

Matron of honor, Mrs. James Smith, wore a gown of aqua net over taffeta, designed with a full skirt and net stole. Her corsage was of red roses and stephanotis.

James Smith served as best man.

Mrs. Paul, the bride's mother, was attired in a black and white silk ensemble. She used white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses and white stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Paul, wore a navy blue print dress with navy and white accessories, and her corsage was of red roses and white stephanotis.

A reception, following the ceremony, was held at the Paul home for friends and relatives from Salem and vicinity. White roses, in a concealed vase, topped the three-tier wedding cake which centered the buffet where tall white candles were held in holders floated with white roses.

The bride, a graduate of Salem High School, is employed at the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in the traffic department. The bridegroom, a graduate of East Sparta High School, has served two and a half years in the Navy.

The new Mrs. Padgett chose a powder blue faille suit for her going away costume. After a honeymoon motor trip, the bride will reside at 159 W. 2nd St., and the bridegroom will return to the Navy to complete his term of duty.

Hold Birthday Party For Margaret Lewis

Honoring the 15th birthday anniversary of Margaret (Greta) Lewis, her mother, Mrs. DeForest Lewis, entertained a group of girls at a dinner party Sunday in the home on E. 5th St.

Places were laid for eight at the table decorated with an arrangement of garden flowers in a crystal bowl and colored tapers in three-branched crystal candelabra.

The affair, a surprise to Greta, included out-door entertainment for the guests who remembered the honoree with gifts.

Mrs. Lewis was assisted in serving by her sister, Miss Margaret Floyd.

24 Attend Party For Pat Zeigler

Twenty-four friends helped Miss Pat Zeigler celebrate her 12th birthday Saturday at her home on RD 5, Salem, at a party arranged by Pat's mother, Mrs. Roger Zeigler.

Games were enjoyed and prizes were awarded to Audrey Hendrick, Eloise Withers and Phyllis Meyers. The honoree was presented gifts from her guests.

A decorated birthday cake highlighted the refreshments served by the hostess.

Gamble Family Reunion Held At Centennial

Braised Shrimps Are Tasty Main Course

For an elegant and satisfying main course that is ready in a jiffy, nothing can beat this recipe for braised shrimps.

Shell fresh shrimp ahead of time or partially defrost frozen ones and it takes only 10 minutes to cook them until they have a broiled-brown look.

BRAISED SHRIMPS

1 lb. raw shrimps
3 tablespoons butter
1 small clove garlic, minced
¼ cup finely diced celery

¼ cup finely diced onion
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
1½ teaspoons kitchen bouquet
1 tablespoon tarragon flavored wine vinegar
1 tablespoon honey
5-oz. package precooked rice.

Remove shells from shrimp if necessary. Melt butter in frying pan. Add garlic, celery and onion. Let cook over moderate heat for about 3 to 5 minutes, stirring frequently.

Add the shelled shrimps. Add salt, ginger, kitchen bouquet, vinegar, and honey. Stir to mix well. Bring to boil and let cook over low heat for about 10 minutes, stirring frequently or until shrimps are just done. Meanwhile prepare package of precooked rice according to directions on box. Serve hot braised shrimps over fluffy rice. Garnish with sprigs of crisp green water cress or parsley. If you like more sauce, simply heat an 8-ounce can of tomato sauce and pour over shrimps just before serving. Yields 4 servings.

Salem 4-H Delegate To Norway Describes Scandinavian Menus

Miss Jean Stille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stille of Ellsworth Rd., and an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate from the United States to Norway, is passing on to Salem News readers her impressions and experiences in that country. A Mahoning County Delegate, Miss Stille will spend more than four months in Norway.

"When they told us in Washington that we should expect to gain twenty pounds during the summer, I could hardly believe them. I do now. I can still get the button on my skirt fastened, but I guess I'll have to admit that I'm coming into that 'just have to loosen by belt one more notch' stage. Every time we have coffee and cookies, I decide now this time only one and three cookies. Later I find I'm still eating.

"Menus in Norway are built around bread, boiled potatoes and fish. Even with the few vegetables they raise—carrots, cauliflower and cabbage—there are still mostly starchy foods eaten. The bread is quite different from the bread at home. It is much heavier and sweeter. There is one dark brown kind I especially like, but it's hard to decide which is best. One morning for breakfast I counted seven different kinds on the table.

"It seems as though the Norwegian housewife is either cooking or washing dishes most of the time. We eat four meals a day, with coffee and cookies in between times. We start with breakfast about 7:30. This generally includes soft boiled eggs, always served in egg cups, bread, cheese, sliced tomatoes and cucumbers and coffee. There is always coffee on the stove.

Sometimes there is something special like sour milk with sugar and cinnamon on it. I must admit the first time I ate it, I could hardly finish the whole dish, but each time since then it's been easier. Now I find I rather like it. It's much like most of the food here in Norway. You must become accustomed to the taste, but from there on, it's delicious.

"THE NEXT MEAL at 11 is mid-day (dinner). Almost always there is some sort of soup. They can make the best soups out of almost nothing. Sometimes red currants or some other fruit in combination with them are used. One favorite here at the farm is spinach soup. Besides the soup, there is fish, either fried or boiled, boiled potatoes and a boiled vegetable—generally carrots or cabbage. There is always melted butter to use on the potatoes and vegetables.

"About 11 it is time for coffee and cookies, cake or something a little special. Instead of the heavier cups we used at meals, this time we use the small, dainty coffee cups.

They have many sets of dishes here, but I can never decide which are the 'company' ones. We use them all at different times. Always, whenever there is coffee we use small coffee spoons. For every day, there are plastic ones. For coffee time and company, there are the tiny silver ones. They really make even a cup of coffee seem like a special occasion.

"MELLOMMAT' comes at 2. This is a very light meal. Bread and jam, milk and cheese make a very good meal at that time of day.

"The last meal, 'aftensbord' is near 7. Here we use up some of the leftovers from midday, cheese, milk bread, of course, and sometimes something a little special like rice cream. This is rice cooked in milk with sugar and vanilla added and then whipped. It is served hot with sugar and cinnamon or cold with a hot fruit syrup. I wouldn't eat rice at home, but I love it this way.

"Last Thursday I cooked the 'Amerikansk middag' they had been asking about for the last two weeks. We had scalloped potatoes and ham and browned carrots. I

Killman-Johnston Nuptials Held In The Baptist Church Saturday

At an informal wedding in the Baptist Church Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Alice Killman, daughter of Mrs. G. T. Funnell of Damascus Rd., and John David Johnston, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Johnston of Leetonia, exchanged marriage vows.

Rev. R. J. Hunter officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a blue lace street-length dress. She carried a yellow rose corsage and a Bible. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Harry Ellis, wore a dress of shell pink silk with matching rose corsage. Harry Ellis served as best man, and the bride's son, George Killman, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Funnell, mother of the bride, was attired in a toast colored dress and wore a yellow mum corsage. Aunt of the bridegroom, Mrs. W. H. Cleland, complemented her blue print dress with a pink rose corsage.

A buffet supper was served to the wedding party and immediate families at the Ellis home on Newgarden Ave. An arrangement of white gladioli decorated the refreshment table.

The bride's mother was hostess to about 60 guests at a reception in the evening. The table was made attractive with a floral centerpiece of white gladioli and honeysuckle. A three tier wedding cake topped with miniature bride and bridegroom was served to guests from Canton, Columbiana and Salem.

For her going away outfit, the new Mrs. Johnston chose a toast colored suit and wore her wedding corsage.

After a week's honeymoon trip to Michigan, the couple will reside in their newly furnished home on the Franklin Rd.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. John Sell of Guilford Lake arranged a surprise reception recently at the Sell's farm home in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. About 55 relatives and friends attended.

A son Glenn, entertained his parents at dinner in a restaurant, and upon their return home, the honorees were greeted by their guests. Among those present were Mrs. Sophia Horst, Mr. and Mrs. William McCammon, Mr. and Mrs. George Kirschner, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Goetz and children, all of Pittsburgh. Others were present from Leetonia, Warren, Lisbon, Elkton, and Salem.

Donald, who is in the armed service training at Camp Carson, Colorado, was unable to attend, but the other seven children, Arthur of Salem, Mrs. Harley Huffman of Lisbon, Glenn, Clyde, Norman, Patricia and Susie of the home, were all present at the affair.

Lunch was served from a table made attractive with flowers. Candies and a tiered wedding cake. The honorees received many gifts.

Lodge Family Holds Reunion At Guilford

The Oscar Lodge family reunion was held at Guilford Lake Sunday. A picnic dinner was enjoyed, and games and visiting occupied the afternoon hours.

Farmer Turns Loose 120 Silver Foxes

BLACK HAWK, Colo. (AP)—Astonished tourists have been reporting they've seen silver foxes racing through Golden Gate Canyon area north of here.

They're right.

A year ago a disgusted fur farmer, Arthur Crow, turned 120 silver foxes loose in the area. He said he had been offered only $5 each for them and they cost $22 apiece to raise.

The foxes have thrived in the mountains.

CONVICTED ON GAMBLING

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Louis Lehman, 63, has been convicted of possessing gambling devices, following a raid in which police confiscated 76 cartons of punchboards and lottery-type tickets from his home. Judge Donald L. McCarroll deferred sentence, pending a ruling on a new trial motion.

HELD ON GAMBLING CHARGE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lake vessels have hauled 58,492,322 tons of iron ore this season, compared with 30,830,868 tons in the same period last year when a steelworkers' strike crippled ore shipping. The Lake Superior Iron Ore Association said the freighters moved 3,409,820 tons in the last week.

HOW I LOST 66 LBS. WITHOUT DIETING

BUENOS AIRES, OHIO—"I used RENNEL Concentrate for six months, and lost 66 lbs. It's wonderful, because I never had to go hungry while losing this weight," writes Ruth Riley, 530 Park Ave. "I am 50 years of age, and my health is greatly improved. I can't praise RENNEL enough for what it has done for me."

your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid RENNEL CONCENTRATE. Pour this into pint bottle and add unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. It's that simple. If reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic with the first bottle, return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Note how bloated disappears—how much better you feel. Now is the time to reduce. Ask your druggist for RENNEL. Costs only $1.40.

Columbiana

Voters Increase By Nearly 400

Results Of Mayoral Race Uncertain

COLUMBIANA — An element of uncertainty in the election of Columbiana village officials Tuesday Nov. 3, is the sizable increase in the number of voters since the last mayoral election in 1951.

In that election, Mayor Walter A. Thomas defeated E. L. Calvin for re-election by exactly 100 votes, 620 to 520.

The combined vote of Thomas and Calvin, 1,140, approximates closely the number of ballots cast in 1941, exact figures of which are not available. But the previous high, 1,546 in 1950, the Taft senatorial campaign, was eclipsed by the 1,913 ballots cast last November in the presidential election.

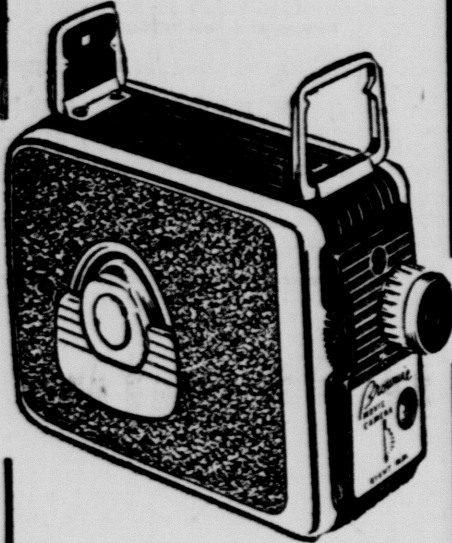

What the nearly 400 new voters may do in the contest for mayor this fall is problematical. Mayor Thomas, Democrat, was elected in 1951 as an independent candidate over Calvin, the regular Democratic nominee, and all the Republican candidates were elected, the Republicans having had no candidate for mayor or for clerk and only four candidates for the six council seats.

This year the Republicans have a full slate with the exception of mayor and clerk. S. Richard Orr, Democrat, has served as clerk most of the time for more than 30 years, and has seldom had opposition.

The vote last fall was 1,387 for Eisenhower, and 518 for Stevenson, but with two Democrats and no Republican running for mayor this year, the result is hard to predict.

ICE BOX VICTIMS LAID TO REST—The Rev. Jack Glass (left) holds graveside services in West Memphis, Ark., for the five children of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hallman, who suffocated in an old ice box Aug. 12 at their Proctor, Ark., farm home. The bodies were put in separate side-by-side graves.

members of the class of '42 of Columbiana High School and their families to the number of 50 were present at a class picnic and reunion in Pavilion 1, Firestone Park Saturday evening. Norman Pregoner, Jr., of Lisbon was elected president, and Mrs. LaNorma Shirey of Greenford, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Ellen Halverstadt of Columbiana was chairman of the table committee. Another reunion will be held at the same place the third Saturday in August, next year.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Firestone American Legion Post will host this evening to the Columbiana County Council of the auxiliary at a picnic in Pavilion 4, Firestone Park with a coverdinner at 6:30. At the August meeting of Firestone Auxiliary tomorrow evening, reports on the state convention in Cleveland, July 24-26, will be heard from the president, Mrs. Philip Horton, Mrs. Robert Tietman, Mrs. Ernest Gustafson and Mrs. A. M. McLaughlin, who attended as delegates.

The public is invited to an inspection of 52 varieties of test plot tomatoes at Firestone Farms by Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania growers at 7 p.m. today.

MRS. LYALL N. RODGERS, the former Joan Zellers of Columbiana, and son Bobby, who have been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gay Zellers of 304 E. Railroad St., since the husband and father, Air Force Lt. Rodgers went overseas in April, will report in New York City Saturday, to sail for Germany where Lt. Rodgers is stationed at Kassel.

The directors of the Columbiana Business & Professional Women's Club will meet at Bundy's restaurant at 6:30 p.m. today.

Mrs. Louis Heller, Jr., of Youngstown gave the Columbiana Garden Club this afternoon its last lesson of a series on flower arrangement. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Olaf Todd, 1 N. Vine St. with Mrs. Ralph Luek as co-hostess.

Hunttown Community Club will hold its annual supper picnic in Mill Creek Park, Youngstown, at 7 p.m., Thursday. Each family is to take table service. Rolls, butter and beverage will be provided.

Mrs. Margaret Best and Mrs. Elva Heit are the only nominees for the two places on the board of trustees of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Clipper Aerie, F. O. E., at the election this evening, when plans will be made for the Eagles' family picnic at Mill-Pic Park next Saturday.

Republican Says GOP To Gain 25 House Seats Next Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican claim that the GOP will strengthen its control of the House next year brought a Democratic retort today that it's too early to make predictions on the outcome of the 1954 voting.

Democrats are counting heavily on tradition to recapture House control in November 1954. Tradition says that the party in power loses seats in an off-year election, in which there is no presidential contest.

Only once in modern times, in 1934, did the voting deviate from that tradition.

Right now Democrats trail Republicans in the House by 6 seats.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.), who, as chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, has the job of directing the GOP's bid for continued control of the House, claims Republicans will pick up 25 more seats next year.

He conceded, in an interview, the possibility of some Republican losses but said there would not be enough to change the balance of power.

Simpson said about 15 present Republican seats might be called "shaky." These include seats in which the Republican margin of victory last year was 5 per cent or less.

Simpson's Democratic counterpart, Rep. M. Keirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, wasn't available for comment but his top political aide, Victor Hunt Harding, said:

"I am making no predictions at this time. It's too early to make predictions on an election more than a year away."

Other Democratic strategists claim that preliminary reports indicate President Eisenhower, while still popular with the voters, isn't as strong as he was a year ago.

Ike Thinks Korea Truce Will Last

Aide Terms Armistice His "Greatest Deed"

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower's top aide says the Chief Executive believes the Korean truce is going to last.

And the aide, Sherman Adams, lists the signing of the truce as the administration's "greatest deed" during its first seven months in office.

Adams, former governor of New Hampshire, arrived at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here yesterday and will remain for a few days.

The President will leave Denver by plane tonight for New York, where tomorrow he will take part in dedication of a 32 million dollar federal housing project, register for the New York municipal elections to be held this fall and hold a round of conferences. He will fly back to Denver tomorrow night.

Adams talked about the Korean truce in a radio interview over a nationwide network last night.

He was asked whether he believes the administration can make the Korean armistice last. He replied that he thinks it will last, and that Eisenhower also believes "the truce is going to stick."

Adams also declared that: 1. He believes Eisenhower can avoid calling a special session of Congress to consider increasing the 275 billion dollar national debt ceiling, "but it is going to be nip and tuck."

2. His (Adams') "purely wild guess" is that an additional 5 to 10 billion dollars can be pared from the $78,600,000,000 budget which former President Truman proposed for the fiscal year which started July 1. The administration says a 13 billion dollar reduction already has been made.

Adams talked of further savings through "internal reductions" in "current departmental expenses," but he did not elaborate.

3. Eisenhower is bearing up "amazingly well"—both temperamentally and physically—under the heavy burdens of the presidency.

Rhee, Mossadegh—Old Men Walking Close To World War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two strong-willed old men, Syngman Rhee and Mohammed Mossadegh, walk dangerously close to the world's powder keg with a lighted match in their hands.

Both move toward the climax of their lives in their late 70s.

And the best the world—the non-Communist world, at least—can do is watch them, hold its breath, and just hope they'll be shrewd and nimble enough not to stumble or fumble.

Rhee, the peppery President of South Korea, is 78. Mossadegh, Iran's Premier, is believed close to 78 too. Both march into the future as determinedly as if they had a lease on life. But—

If Rhee, exasperated by the forthcoming peace conference, wrecks the truce by attacking the Chinese, what then? The Chinese seem capable of slaughtering Rhee and his people.

Would the United States and the United Nations stand idly by? Or would they go in once more to bail out the South Koreans, thus renewing the war which might soon become bigger than Korea?

Mossadegh became Iran's No. 1 man Sunday when the Shah fled into exile. What now? Has Mossadegh so weakened the structure of government that, unwittingly, he has opened the door for the Iranian Communists to bounce him and take power? That would make Iran another Russian satellite.

What would the United States and the United Nations do in that case, since Iran is strategic in the Middle East and its rich oil fields are important to both Russia and the West?

Rhee has made it abundantly clear what he wants in Korea: unification under him. Mossadegh's ultimate ambition for Iran is far from clear, unless it is making over the country to his liking.

Both men have been in the politics of their homeland most of their lives. Both are nationalists, both are heroes. Both use their popularity for all its worth.

Where they differ profoundly is in the way they go about getting what they want.

Rhee is defiant as a rooster. He keeps the air crackling with pronouncements on his attitudes and desires. Not so Mossadegh.

That lean man with the mournful face looks hungry. He has fits of fainting and weeping spells which he manages in public places. He doesn't cry in private conferences.

He has stalked success like a cat, eliminating opponents one step at a time, letting his people and the world guess where he'll jump next.

For half a century there was no doubt about the prominence of Rhee among his Koreans. But Mossadegh, a Johnny-come-lately to high office, was a minor figure in Iran until he became premier a few years ago.

For years he had been a minor member of Parliament, making a hobby of criticizing the government. Although he was reportedly one of the richest of Iranians, he consistently backed liberal measures for the people.

He swam to the top on the wave of nationalism which swept over Iran after World War II appealing to the Iranians' ancient pride, denouncing foreign interference in his country's affairs, and finding the British a handy target.

For 40 years, through their ownership of Iranian oil production, the British had been a force, perhaps the controlling force, in Iran. Mossadegh led the Iranians in throwing out the British and taking the oil.

That's a problem that has never been settled. But Mossadegh moved from one internal crisis to another until now the question of a settlement on oil is overshadowed by the question of Iran's whole future.

Rhee, on the other hand, had been a Korean rally point most of his life. It was only natural he should become president of South Korea when the people had their first chance to elect one, in 1948. He began fighting the Korean monarchy for reforms in 1894. For this he was jailed and tortured. He came to this country, was educated at Harvard and Princeton, returned to Korea when the Japanese grabbed it. He soon had to flee.

From then until the end of World War II he was in exile, fighting for Korean independence, and for more than 20 of those years he had been considered by Koreans the President-in-exile of the Korean Republic which didn't exist.

Mossadegh, too, had his troubles with monarchy in his homeland. Long ago he was jailed by Reza Shah, father of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, who had to flee from Mossadegh Sunday. Mossadegh evened an old score with that one.

I was ahead in every way after this demonstration!

I figured on paying about $200 more for a new car... until I discovered all that Chevrolet offered me.

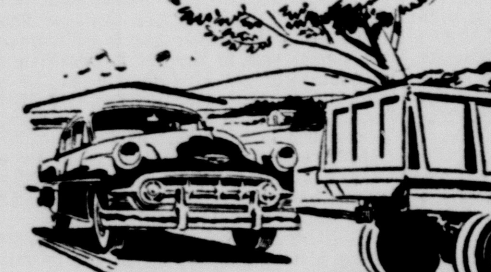

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel. Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the rich-looking upholstery and appointments and roomy, comfortable seats. Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You get more power on less gas. Here's all the power and performance you could ever ask for. And along with it comes the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history! That's because of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines.

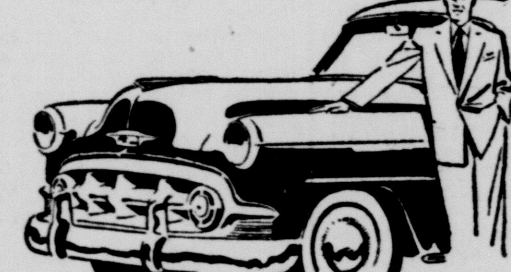

You can see all around. You look out and down at the road through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops. An easy nudge on the brake pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet brakes are the largest in the low-price field—extra large for extra stopping power.

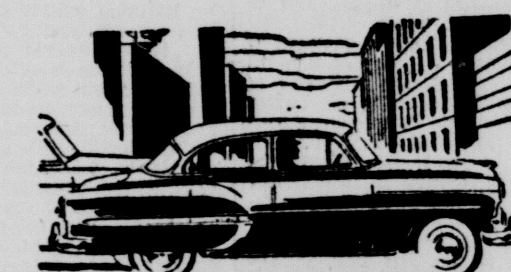

It's heavier for better roadability. You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady ride. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than other low-priced cars.

And it's the lowest-priced line. A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers more in the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide.* Finer performance on less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Even Power Steering, if you want it. You ought to try Power Steering to see how easy driving can be. You can spin the wheel with one finger! It's optional, of course, at extra cost, and available on all models.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

Notre Dame, Michigan State Are Reprimanded By NCAA

Arizona State Put On Probation

Irish Charged With Permitting "Tryouts"

By TOM BRANAGAN
CHICAGO (AP)—With the name of the mighty Notre Dame added to its disciplinary list, the National Collegiate Athletic Association turned to other investigations today.

A spokesman said five more schools are involved in charges of violating the NCAA's athletic code but that investigations are incomplete. The schools were not named.

Notre Dame—along with Michigan State and Arizona State—was reprimanded by the NCAA's 17 man council, a policy-making group, at the close of its meeting yesterday.

Michigan State already had been put on probation by the Big Ten conference because of the activities of an off-campus "foundation" which allegedly aided athletes. The council said it supported this action.

All three schools were cited for permitting campus tryouts of prospective athletes. Neither Notre Dame nor Michigan State received any specific punishment but Arizona State, at Tempe, was put on two years' probation.

In addition to permitting tryouts, the Arizona school was charged with permitting pay to athletes. As a further punishment, all its athletes were ruled ineligible for NCAA championship events for the 1953-54 school year.

Notre Dame and Arizona State admitted doing wrong but grumbled about the severity of the NCAA's action. Michigan State, which protested loudly after the Big Ten's probation was announced reacted mildly to the NCAA pronouncement. Said Ralph Young, athletic director:

"We're hoping that the Big Ten probation will be lifted soon. We are observing all Big Ten and NCAA rules in every way, shape and manner."

The Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, CSC, executive vice president of Notre Dame, said Irish coaches had used a "modified type of tryout." He said the university stopped the practice when it learned of it last January and invoked "disciplinary measures" against the coaches.

Arizona State's president, Dr. Grady Gammage, said, "We know there were infractions . . . Our house has been put in order."

Lopez To Give Big 3 Chance For 20 Wins

DETROIT (AP)—Fourteen games out of first and facing an uphill battle to regain second, the Cleveland Indians may yet become the first club in 53 years of American League play to have three 20-victory winners three straight seasons.

Manager Al Lopez says he will give Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn every opportunity to win the honor two years running.

"If any one of them is a game or two short of 20 when the season is about over, I'll give 'em a chance to go for it," Lopez said.

Two of the Big Three are scheduled to lead off the three-game series with the Detroit Tigers—Garcia tonight against his old Cleveland roommate, Steve Gromek, and Wynn tomorrow.

Lemon, shooting for his fifth 20-victory season in the last six campaigns, has the best chance of making it. His record is 16-12. Each of the trio will have about nine starts in the Tribe's remaining 40 games, and Wynn needs seven victories while Garcia requires six.

Only one other American League team has had three 20-game winners two years in a row—the Boston Red Sox of 1903-04. The great Cy Young had 28 and 26; Bill Dineen 21 and 23, and Tom Hughes won 21 in 1903 and Jesse Tannehill 21 in 1904 to complete the trio.

Lemon missed the 20-game circle in 1951, when Wynn and Garcia just made it with 20-13 marks, but Bob Feller completed the threesome with 22-8. Feller was 13-9 last year and currently is 6-6.

Bowling League Plans Organization Meeting

P. B. Myers, secretary of the Quaker City Bowling League, has announced that an organization meeting of the league will be held next Monday at the Salem Bowling Center.

Notices have been sent to all last year's captains and the secretary requests that all team captains or a representative of the team be at the organization meeting. New team will get in but if a representative of a team to attend the meeting the team captain should call Mr. Myers.

Any new teams interested in getting into the league also are asked to attend the meeting. Myers said that there is no guarantee that a new team will get in but if a representative of the team does not attend the meeting it will be impossible to get into the league.

EXPENSIVE EATING—R. I. Lide, Columbiana County game protector, is shown above with a rare diamond back terrapin caught by a fisherman in the west branch of the Little Beaver. Mr. Lide turned the terrapin, formally called a malaclemys, over to Mrs. Ella Thea Cox, Salem High School biology instructor, for positive identification. It belongs to the painted turtle family which was evidenced by yellow spots and stripes on its shell. It is a favorite and costly article of food. This particular turtle with a nine-inch shell would be worth $11 or more if sold for food. It will be turned over to the Ohio Division of Wildlife for exhibition at the Ohio State Fair.

Salem Tool, Diner, Mullins Win In Softball

Salem Tool trounced the M & E Market, 17-2, and the Town Hall Diner walloped Parkers, 15-7, in Class A action last night at Kelley Field. Mullins defeated Demings, 4-2, in the only AA game last night.

Leo Kline, the winning Salem Tool hurler, gave up only three hits to M & E batters. Warner, Smith, Ball, and Cope led the Tool batting with three hits each. The Tool nine had a total of 18 hits off Schuster, the M & E pitcher. John and Bob Baker and Domencetti each had a hit for the M & E Market. Salem Tool got three runs in the first inning, three in the third, and 11 more in the fourth inning. The M & E nine got one in the second and one in the third.

Limpose, Bruderly, and Rottenborn led the Town Hall attack with three hits each. Ehrhart, Carmelo, and Harrigan each had two hits. Panzotti, the losing Parker pitcher gave up 16 hits to Town Hall batters. Parkers got seven hits off Fife, the winning hurler. Allisen and Schaffer each had two hits for Parkers. The Town Hall nine scored in every inning with the exception of the fourth.

McQuiston tossed a two-hitter for Mullins as they beat second place Demings. Hrvin had two hits for Mullins. Ehrhart was the losing pitcher. He gave up six hits to the Deming nine. Wyss and hits to the Mullins nine.

It's Official Now—Browns Out Of Race

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It was only a matter of time, but the St. Louis Browns no longer have a chance of winning the American League pennant.

The Browns became the first American League team to be mathematically eliminated from the flag chase yesterday when the league-leading Yankees won the first part of a two-night twin bill against the Philadelphia A's.

The victory gave the Yankees 78 triumphs for the year. The Browns only have won 41 and a clean sweep of all of their remaining 36 tilts would give them only 77 wins.

Softball Schedule Revision Completed

Ward Zeller, city softball director, has announced a revised softball schedule for the remainder of the week. The Amvets, in forfeiting for the third time last week, are being dropped from the AA League.

This rule was recently added to the city softball rules. All scheduled Amvets games will be considered as forfeits to the other team. The teams scheduled to play following the Amvets games will move up to the time of the Amvets game.

REVISSED SOFTBALL SCHEDULE

Musial Gains Fast In NL Batting Race

NEW YORK (AP)—"The patient is recovering and gaining rapidly." That bulletin might well be issued today on the condition of Stan Musial's hitting as the St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder strives for his seventh National League batting championship.

Musial currently is batting .316, ninth highest in the senior circuit. But a couple of good days will put him within striking distance of Monte Irvin, the LN's pace-setter.

Irvin, New York Giant's outfielder, has been on the shelf with an injured ankle since Aug. 9, and has held on to his No. 1 spot with a .339 average. Carl Furillo of the Brooklyn Dodgers is second with .333 followed by Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski at .331.

In the American League, Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators is leading with a .331 mark. Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox has zoomed into the runner-up position only two points back. Minnie gained 13 points last week while Vernon tailed off four.

Art Wall Defeats Middlecoff In Tourney

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., was never behind as he defeated Cary Middlecoff of Memphis by two strokes in a playoff for the Fort Wayne Open golf title yesterday.

Yankees Wallop A's Twice; Dodgers Defeat Pirates, 5-2

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer
Now that the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers virtually have run off and hidden from the rest of the clubs, they're working on a little intramural competition to hold their interest. Their new goal is 100 victories each, well within range but still a mark that will keep them hustling.

The Dodgers with 39 games left need to win 22 to hit the century mark—a figure reached by only two other Brooklyn clubs in history. The Yankees will have to win 21 of their last 38. Yankee teams in the past have reached 100 or more eight times, but not in the last 11 years.

Both the Yankees and Dodgers fattened their margins over their nearest rivals last night. The New Yorkers won a pair of one-sided games from Philadelphia 10-3 and 9-0 and moved nine games in front of the idle Chicago White Sox.

Brooklyn came from behind on Duke Snider's two-run homer in the ninth and then beat Pittsburgh 5-2 on Gil Hodges' three-run blast in the 11th. The Dodgers gained half a game on the unscheduled Milwaukee Braves and lead by 8½ games.

In the only other activity the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Phillies split a pair in the privacy of the spacious Polo Grounds. Only 2,885 cash customers watched the Phils win the first game 5-2 and bow in the second 6-0.

The Phils clinched the first game with four runs in the eighth inning off Dave Koslo, who had started his first game since June 23. The Giants took the nightcap from Andy Hansen, who was making his first start in three years.

Johnny Lindell tamed the Dodgers on three hits until Bobby Morgan opened the ninth with a single and Snider followed on the next pitch with his 28th homer. In the 11th Lindell got into immediate trouble by walking Snider and Jack E. Robinson and running the count to 3 and 1 on Hodges. The big first baseman then found the left field stands with his 26th home run.

Yogi Berra hit his 21st home run in the Yankees' first-game romp. Whitey Ford picked up his 15th victory, tops on the New York mound staff, but he had to have help from Tom Gorman in the seventh. In the second game the Yankees opened with five runs, more than enough for Bob Kuzava, who scattered 11 hits effectively enough to score a shutout.

Browns May Move To Los Angeles, Claim

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bill Veech has promised Los Angeles county and city officials that if they can purchase the local baseball park the American League will permit him to bring the St. Louis Browns' major league franchise here next year. The Times said today.

The park is owned by P. K. Wrigley, who holds the franchise both for the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast League and the Chicago Cubs of the National League.

Paul Zimmerman, sports editor of the Times, said Veech made his proposition to constituted authorities here during a visit several weeks ago.

Last spring Veech made an unsuccessful attempt to move the Browns to Baltimore when other American League owners turned down his bid. Later the National League approved transfer of the Boston Braves franchise to Milwaukee.

Bliss, Demings Join Ashtabula Tourney

Two Salem softball teams, the Bliss and Demings, will play in a district 13 tournament at Ashtabula this week.

Demings will play Painesville Merrick Motors at 6:30 p. m. Thursday and the Bliss will meet the Ashtabula Hide and Leather nine at 6:30 Friday night.

Demings is the number two Columbiana County team and Painesville is the number two Lake County team. The Bliss is the top Columbiana County team and Ashtabula is the number two team in Ashtabula County.

Merchants Drop 3rd Of Season

Salem Edged By Lisbon, 3-2

Twenty-one wins and three losses! The Salem Merchants ended their 1953 season last night, bowing to Lisbon, 3-2, at Negley.

Bob Loudon pitched for Salem. It was his first tour of duty on the mound for the Merchants. Clarence Lease led the Salem batting with a double and a single. Loudon had two singles for Salem. Don Miller and Chuck Marks each had a hit for the Merchants. K. Apple led Lisbon with two hits.

Loudon gave up five hits, walked one, and fanned nine Lisbon batters while Bettis, the Lisbon hurler, gave up six hits, walked one, and struck out seven Salem batters.

Lisbon scored one run in the first inning and two in the second. Salem went scoreless until the first of the seventh inning when they came up with two runs.

The Merchants ended their season last year with an identical win-loss record, 21 victories and three setbacks. Manager Chester Brautigam is in his third year as the Merchant pilot.

Salem will meet Negley tomorrow night at Centennial Park in the opening game of the 1953 Columbiana County playoffs. Negley is the third place county team while the Merchants are the league leaders. The second game of the three game series will be played at Negley with the field for the final game of the series being decided by a flip of a coin.

Second place East Liverpool will meet the fourth place team in a three game series also. The two winners will clash in a five game series to decide the 1953 county champs. Last year the Merchants met East Liverpool in the county finals and took the county championship.

Pierce, Spahn Hold Lowest E.R.A.

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy (The Kid) Pierce, who has emerged as a top-flight American League pitcher this year, and Warren Spahn, one of the National's best since 1947, lead their respective circuits in earned run averages today.

Pierce, slender Chicago White Sox southpaw, has given up only 49 earned runs in 201 innings for a 2.19 mark. He has hurled three straight shutouts in his most recent starts and hasn't been scored on in 34 2-3 innings. Billy has won 16 games, his major league high, and lost seven.

Spahn, a 20-game winner in four of his seven big league campaigns, has permitted 45 earned runs in 1853 frames for a 2.21 average. The 32-year-old Milwaukee left-hander has a 16-5 record this year.

Virgil Trucks, another White Sox pitching ace, is runner-up to Pierce in the American League with a 2.54 ERA.

Robin Roberts, the major leagues' only 20-game winner, is second in the National League with a 2.53 earned run average.

U.S. Trapshoot Title At Stake At Vandalia, O.

By FRITZ HOWELL
VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Trapshooting's most coveted title, the Amateur Clay Target Championship of America, was at stake today as the 54th Grand American rolled into its second day.

The shooters aim at 200 targets at 16 yards. Perfect score has been necessary to win it the last six years. Rudy Etchen of Keetchum, Idaho, last year's champion, will not defend his title.

The experts have a good chance to win because the entire field, expected to be around 1,000, fires from the 16 yard mark. In the handicap events still to come, the top fliers are handicapped back as far as 25 yards which usually means the up-front novices win.

The North American titles for men, women, juniors from 15-18, sub-juniors under 15 and professionals were to be decided. An entry fee of $25 will be paid by each contestant and each may pay another $35 in an optional system which boosts the prize money.

Along with the 200-target event the male champion of each state, Canadian province, the Canal Zone, Cuba and Alaska will meet in a shoulder to shoulder 100 - target race.

Julian Petty of Stuttgart, Ark., scored 95 of 100 to become men's doubles champion of champions yesterday.

Fisher's, Sekely's Win In Little League

Fisher's News defeated the VFW, 3-1, in the only Little League game at Centennial Park last night. Sekely's trounced the Eljer Co., 18-4, at the Idora Park Little League field yesterday afternoon at the Eljer Co. picnic. It was a regularly scheduled game.

Rottenborn, hurling for Fisher's, allowed the Vets only two hits, singles by Hunter and Kilmer. Rottenborn struck out six batters and walked three men. He also led the Fisher batting attack with two doubles and a single. Dunn had two singles and Paxson had a double.

Fisher's had a total of nine hits off Hunter, the VFW pitcher. He fanned six batters and walked only one.

Sekely's were leading, 7-4 going into the fifth inning when they put across 11 big runs. Bobby Stall-smith was the winning hurler and Leo Beall the looser. Because of the big score the game went only five innings.

Peacock Beats Gault For Bantam Title

By JACK HAND
BROOKLYN (AP)—Billy Peacock, a 21-year-old lad from Los Angeles, with only 18 pro fights under his belt, today was thinking in terms of the world's bantam-weight crown after winning the North American championship from Henry ("Pappy") Gault of Spartanburg, S. C.

First on Peacock's future calendar, however, is a return bout with Gault, whom he defeated last night on a 12-round split decision at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway arena. The rematch may be set back to mid-October so that Peacock can have his bad tonsils taken out.

The new North American champion also wants to even matters with Baby Face Gutierrez who took away his California bantam crown last month.

"We should be ready for Jimmy Carruthers, the world titleholder, by the end of the year," said Joe Stanley, Peacock's manager.

Carruthers is the undisputed world's champion in the 118-pound class. The National Boxing association set up the North American championship to stimulate interest in the division, once one of the busiest classes. Gault won the crown from Fernand Gagnon at Quebec Oct. 27, 1952.

The closest thing to a knockdown last night came when Gault slipped in the third round.

Referee Pete Scalzo called in 7-41 for Peacock and Judge Art Aidala saw it 7-5 for Peacock. Judge Charles Shortell had Gault the winner, 6-5-1. The Associated Press scorecard favored Peacock 6-5-1.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Duke Snider, Brooklyn Dodgers, collected three of Brooklyn's seven hits in the Dodgers' 5-2, 11-inning victory over Pittsburgh, including a ninth-inning homer that tied the score.

Pitching — Bob Kuzava, New York Yankees, gave up 11 hits but scattered them so well he pitched a shutout over Philadelphia, 9-0.

Probe Death Of Woman In Motor Court

ORANGEBURG, S. C. (AP)—A 38-year-old Clarksburg, W. Va., grocer is being held in jail here while authorities continue their investigation into the death of a woman whose nude body was found in a motor court here Sunday.

Orangeburg County Sheriff B. N. Collins said Ronald E. Ross, 38, is being held without charge. Ross told officers he spent Friday and Saturday in the same room with the body of Miss Kathryn A. Cloud, 37, also of Clarksburg. He said he was afraid to call police.

Ross said Miss Cloud became sick Friday morning and died while he was out of the room.

The woman's nude, partly decomposed body, lying on a blood-spattered sheet, was found by the motor court manager Jodie Green. He told police the two arrived in separate cars Aug. 3 and registered as man and wife.

State highway patrol officers said they had received a "lookout" notice for a Ronald E. Ross Aug. 15. The notice said Ross left Beaufort, S. C., July 31. The notice said a woman was with him and foul play was suspected.

The Charleston (W. Va.) Gazette reported that the woman, a member of a prominent Clarksburg family, had served a while as receptionist for Matthew M. Neely when he was governor of the state. Neely is now U. S. senator from West Virginia.

Orange County coroner John Henry Dukes said an inquest will be held as soon as an autopsy report is received.

Deputy Collins said there was no evidence pointing to foul play.

In Beaufort, authorities of Tidewater Hospital said Ross and Miss Cloud had been patients there. They added that the two left together on July 31, the woman against her doctor's orders.

The hospital said Ross agreed to take Miss Cloud back to Clarksburg with him. Officials would not say why the two had been hospitalized.

The South Carolina highway patrol explained it had been looking for the couple since Aug. 15 because Miss Cloud's relatives in Clarksburg reported she had not arrived.

A sister of the woman reported that Miss Cloud planned to go to the home of Dr. A. W. Cloud, their father, at Canton, Ohio, after working during the summer at Myrtle Beach, S. C. The body will be taken to Canton for burial.

and Sanders "confessed" their guilt, and both the British and American governments promptly branded the confessions the result of Communist pressure interrogations.

As a result of Sanders' conviction, Britain broke off trade relations with Hungary, and the United States also took retaliatory measures.

Hungary recently has shown interest in reopening trade with Britain, and it was presumed the British have readied concessions along this line in exchange for Sanders' release.

On July 27, British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd told Parliament negotiations for Sanders' release again were under way between the British charge d'affaires in Budapest and Hungarian officials.

The Hungarian announcement of Sanders' pardon implied the action was based on a clemency petition submitted to President Istvan Dobi earlier this month by the Briton's wife Winifred. She gave her letter of appeal to Hungary's ambassador in London, Imre Horvath, just before his return to Budapest Aug. 11.

The Czechs in releasing Associated Press Correspondent William Oatis earlier this year also cited an appeal from his wife. Later it was revealed the United States had offered to negotiate the removal of trade restrictions against the Czechs if the newsman was freed.

become "race tracks." "Now all the busses use 2nd to get to the terminal."

Then he queried, "Who's going to repair 2nd St. when it becomes broken down from the bus traffic; the residents?"

A question was asked the city solicitor if the state could compel the city to take the parking off the main street. Hunston told them it couldn't, but the "whip they are using" is the $17,500 aid. "If we do not take the parking off, they will use it elsewhere," he declared.

Father Of Slain Boy Arrested, Mother Held

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Dudley Crider today disclosed the arrest of Gail Rhodeback, 32-year-old father of Byron Rhodeback, 5, slain by a "homicidal attack."

The boy's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Rhodeback, 27, was accused of second-degree murder yesterday.

The father, said Crider, is held without charge.

The 317-pound mother, who once served time in Marysville Reformatory for mistreating her children, may be arraigned today. She is accused of "unlawfully and maliciously" killing young Byron Aug. 7. She contends he died of injuries received from a maddened heifer.

tending the parley should be a roundtable affair rather than a two-sided negotiation. If the U. S.-opposed view is adopted, still other noncombatants might be invited.

The reported Soviet move was seen as an attempt to capitalize on the differences between the United States and Britain over India, and at the same time a try for U. N. defeat to the United States.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., listed as first speaker in the 60-nation Political Committee, has announced the United States will agree to Russia's inclusion in the Korean conference if the North Koreans and Red China desire it. He insisted, however, that Russia should sit as a representative of the enemy and not on the U. N. side.

Lodge has declared emphatically that he will not support a British-backed proposal to invite India to the conference. But despite Lodge's objections, the inclusion of India has strong support among the British commonwealth nations, the Arabs, the Asians and some Latin American and West European countries.

Only last night, Mexico's foreign Minister Luis Padilla Nervo announced in Mexico City that his government favors broadening the conference to include some new countries.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold also has declared he favors a broad interpretation of the armistice agreement, which calls upon the two sides to choose their representatives. The United States has taken the position that this wording excludes countries who did not actually take part in the fighting.

The Russians had made no public move, but an Iron Curtain diplomat told a reporter late yesterday that they favored a broader representation at the conference than the Americans were advocating.

This delegate said the Communists want a "roundtable" rather than another Panmunjom.

Non-Striking Phone Workers Guarded

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Indiana state police were ready to protect workers in the reopened Clinton telephone exchange today and the Indiana National Guard was alerted to move against any further violence in the Indiana Bell telephone strike.

A cable cutting left Muncie with most teletype and long distance service dead. It was the second time that city of 60,000 had been isolated by a severed cable, and it occurred just after a power failure had blacked out three-fourths of the city.

Several more persons were arrested after incidents on tense picket lines. The strike by the CIO Communications Workers of America was in its 28th day.

Gov. George N. Craig sent state police to Clinton yesterday afternoon to escort workers into the telephone building. Service in the western Indiana city of 6,000 had been shut down for the second time during the strike. Clinton does not have dial service.

The city was quiet as the state officers led workers and supervisors into the building and remained on guard. The building still had broken windows and light bulbs from a disorder Saturday.

E. R. Moore, head of the company's engineering department in Clinton, said he believed the damage was caused by young hoodlums, not by strikers.

At Kokomo seven girl pickets were charged with assault and battery after a fight outside the exchange in which a nonstriking operator said her clothing was torn.

Company spokesmen said chains and barricades which had been used to bar nonstrikers from leaving the Kokomo building had been removed.

At Evansville a 27-year-old striking operator was charged with disorderly conduct, accused of hitting a temporary operator.

The CWA is on strike at Indiana Bell's 82 exchanges seeking higher wages and a contract to replace one that expired June 2.
